

Zurich, December 2018

We would like to inform you about a new chapter in the history of Ultra Finanz AG. It is well known that the environment and framework conditions for successful sustainable asset management are becoming increasingly demanding. The two partners of Ultra Finanz AG, Daniel Steffen and Thomas Schnurrenberger, have been thinking intensively for some time now and have actively examined various options as to how our customers can be optimally served in this new reality. To this end, they have decided to combine their business activities with Cité Gestion, an asset manager based in Geneva, Lausanne and Zurich.

Founded by experienced managers at Lombard Odier in Geneva, Cité Gestion already positioned itself in the market in 2010 with its own philosophy as a securities dealer with a FINMA license. In 2017, management decided to buy Cité Gestion out of the Lombard Odier Group and to establish itself as an independent securities dealer and custodian.

The merger will enable us to expand our product range and take further targeted growth steps. In the course of these changes, we will also move into our new premises in Zurich's city center on Sihlstrasse (near Jelvoli), where the entire expertise of Cité Gestion in Zurich can be pooled under one roof.

The new contact details, including the new personal addresses of the employees, can be found on the following page.

Yours sincerely
